

Make Room: A Family's Guide to Lent & Easter

How to Read the Book:

- Read one section of the book at a time. When you finish one portion (e.g. Making Room), Discuss how to put the theme into practice.
 - What ideas are suggested by the story?
 - How do they connect with the story of Jesus?
- Use wondering questions to encourage children to connect their own lives with the story. Wondering questions are open-ended. Their purpose is not to provide the “right” answers, but to stir the imagination to new possibilities and insights.

How to Use the Book:

- Depending upon the developmental age of the children, you may choose a few activities or practices (e.g. a new form of prayer) and use them throughout the Lenten season.
- Or follow the themes set out in the book and try a few different activities each week.
- Make Room is about creating openings for God—windows where the Spirit can enter and transform us, and through us the world.
